Jeffrey Caird

Jeff Caird is a Professor in the Department of Psychology and an Adjunct Professor in the Department of Community Health Sciences at the University of Calgary. He received his Ph.D. from the University of Minnesota. He has co-edited four books on human-machine systems, including the Handbook of Driving Simulation for Engineering, Medicine and Psychology and The Handbook of Teen and Novice Drivers: Research, Practice, Policy and Directions. Within human factors and traffic safety, his research has focused on driver and pedestrian distraction, driving impairment from cannabis and alcohol, intersection decision making, and younger and older drivers.